

Quotes

It doesn't take a genius to play a Mozart song... but playing it before he ever did can make the argument strong.

Infotainment – without a doubt... it's the 'info' that goes in but it's the 'tainment' that keeps them from heading out.

You can still be authentic trying to become something you're not... I wasn't born knowing how to rhyme but now I do it a lot.

I'm afraid of many things that don't stop me from chasing what I love... fear doesn't stop you when you accept what you're afraid of Rito Rhymes may be a solo act but he aint a solo production.

Technology's agnostic, people seem to get confused... it's only as good or as bad as the way it's being used.

Speaking ain't the only potent way of voicing your voice... volumes can be uttered just by exercising choice.

We only know something is original when we're sure it has been copied.

Without air you die in minutes, without water you die in days, without food you die in weeks... would it kill you to take some time to just focus on your breathing?